Legal #264 Tuesday Evening

The second amendment states, "A well-regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed" The constitutional question I am writing about for the constitutional law paper is focused on the Second Amendment of the Unites States Bill of Rights. The specific question is, "Does the second amendment right to bear arms allow citizens to carry concealed weapons in public?" This issue has been a hot topic in the United States among Gun Rights Advocates and Anti-Gun Rights advocated alike.

Each state has one of three potential designations for a concealed carry permit – Shall Issue, May Issue and Rights Denied.

- Shall Issue: States that are Shall Issue will issue any private citizen a conce weapons permit as long as they meet all requirements.
- May Issue: States that are May Issue have the authority to take judgm whether or not they want to issue a concealed weapons permit to a citizen even after they have met all requirements.
- Right Denied: States that are Right Denied DO NOT allows r carry handguns and do not issue concealed weapon perm

The only state classified as Right Denied is Illinois. Vermo

True / False / Justification - Each of these questions is worth four points total. Two points are given for the correct true / false answer, and up to two points are also given for a short justification of your answer. Keep it short – just use the space provided. No matter if the statement is true or false, to get full four points credit you must provide a justification, to support your answer.

1. Stocks and bonds are exactly the same thing, just different terms for the same method that corporations use to raise investment money.

2. If a corporation hires an independent contractor, respondeat superior does not apply, and the business is 100 % liable for his actions.

3. A corporation has a perpetual existence, and can only be dissolved under very specific circumstances.

4. In Ohio, as in most other states, the only officers that new start-up corporations are legally required to have are a President & Vice-President.
